8. The German Hospital No 5, Miera iela.
9. The Jewish Hospital on Maskavas iela, No 119 [redacted]
10. The Municipal Hospital for Cancer Patients on Talsu iela.
11. There were also at least four hospitals privately owned by prominent doctors in Riga, all of whom left Latvia prior to 1945.
12. All more or less prominent Latvian doctors in Riga left the country prior to 1945. There are perhaps 350 of them in the US at this time and perhaps as many dentists. Among other scientists who remained in Riga are Professor Knazelsins, a philologist, and Professor Kirchensteins, a microbiologist. The former, an old man by now, was reported by the Latvian newspapers to have been reprimanded by Moscow and directed to adhere to the Moscow Party line even in teaching linguistics. The latter, formerly a member of the Veterinary Science Faculty, was later one of the Communist prime ministers. He had always been regarded by the medical profession in Riga as a comical figure [redacted]
